SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health.

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

Where Are They?

Roanoke Times: "If there is war, I will go; my four sons will go; my two sons-in-law will go!"

You do not need to ask whose voice it is that trumpets forth such belligerent sentiments so blithely, not to say blissfully. It is one long familiar to the American public, one raised on every possible occasion in and out of season when there was no riot to be gained for the evening. It is the voice of him who has never been known to overlook an opportunity to gain the spotlight—either for himself or for his four sons or for his two sons-in-law. In short, it is the voice of T. R.

The words were spoken at a time when it looked as though the exceedingly critical relations existing between the United States and Germany might culminate in conflict. With more assurance than modesty, more insistence than good taste, more audacity than wisdom, T. R. had been doing his best to stir up anti-German sentiment in his county and had not hesitated roundly to berate the administration because it preferred to gain by patient diplomacy what might or might not have been gained by a resort to arms and then only at the cost of so many precious young lives. Much to the disgust and chagrin of his cupping critics, the administration succeeded in exacting from the German government sweeping concessions and radical revision of its maritime policy. And so war was averted.

Now another crisis has arisen in our international relations, this time with Mexico, and it has been necessary to call out the national guard to aid in preserving order along the border. All over the land men are leaving their accustomed vocations and several callings to answer their country's call. What, oh what, has become of the "hero" who so recently proclaimed, "If there is war, I will go; my four sons will go; my two sons-in-law will go!" Where are the four sons—where the two sons-in-law? Echo answers, "Where?"

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. A great many years ago a local doctor, a local disease and proffered local remedy, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and Catarrh requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

WENT SMILING TO DEATH.

(Lynchburg Advance.)

A story is told of a man being electrocuted at Sing Sing, who walked to the death chair with a smile on his face.

Whether true or not the story is deeply suggestive. The possibility of a man's meeting the death current with a smile must prove the practicability of meeting with a smile any conditions of life.

There seem to be something in human nature that braces us up for the inevitable. For this reason we face with fortitude the gravest disasters, even death itself, but fret and fuss and frown over little ills which a cheerful smile would dissipate as sunshine dissipates malarial mists.

Men who rise as masters in great emergencies may be stung to death by little annoyances.

It is almost an entirely a matter of habit. Cheerfulness may be cultivated, as well as health. Indeed, the two blessings generally go together.

Fortunately but a few of us may be called upon to go smiling to the death chair.

But we are called upon every day to smile away life's little worries.

Is it a Cold, Cough or Bad Blood?

Richmond, Va.—"I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with the best effect, and I am perfectly satisfied with the results. I had a very serious cough and cold with bad fever; the cough was exceedingly harsh and so violent as to give me an irritated sore throat with hoarseness and a compressed feeling in my lungs. The cough reduced my strength and I had to stop work. At the same time I was suffering from indigestion and had to live on stale bread and milk. My liver also was in a very inactive condition, as well as my bowels. These discouraging symptoms readily yielded to the influence of the 'Discovery' to my great pleasure and comfort."—JOHN H. EAKES, 434 S. Laurel St., Richmond, Va.

The best time to cure a cough is when it starts. Ordinarily, a few doses of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure a cough at the beginning. But even when the cough is deep-seated and the body is wasted by emaciation, "Medical Discovery" in most cases will effect a permanent cure. The best Spring medicine and tonic is one made of herbs and roots without alcohol—that was first discovered by Doctor Pierce—years ago. Made of Golden Seal root, blood root, with glycerine. It is called Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It makes the blood rich and pure. Ingredients on wrapper. Sold by druggists.

THE HIGH COST OF PRINTING.

(Louisville Courier-Journal.)

These are parlous times for the newspapers likewise. The one-cent papers have had to become two-centers, and some of the two-centers are mediating three; and the end is not yet. The world war may have helped some callings; but it has been the Devil-and-Tom-Walker to the press equally of Europe and America.

Here comes the Atlanta Journal that once got to be so cheap it looked as if its next move would be to make a present of itself to each subscriber along with a hard-boiled egg and a chromo. It becomes a two-center. And the Tennesseean, of Nashville, rolling in luxury and wealth, hear its plaint of bad luck and hard times. We quote from a recent circular issued to its readers by our staunch, substantial neighbor:

"The enormous increase in the cost of materials used in the manufacture of a newspaper brings about the necessity for the above change in price, and that our readers may properly understand, a few items are given below:

"The tremendous increase in prices of white paper will force the Tennesseean and American to pay over $15,000 more the coming year than previously, and this is only one item. Ink, metal, chemicals, oil, stereotype, paper, etc., have all increased in price anywhere from 25 to 500 per cent., which makes it impossible for newspaper publishers to longer print large papers, as does the Tennesseean and American and lever them at the old rate.

"We trust our subscribers will appreciate the necessity for the change in rates and that we may always be favored with the patronage, and one and all may be assured of a better and bigger Tennesseean and American as a result."

The worse part of this, to come down to boot-heels and brass tacks, and to speak seriously, is that every word of it is true. Yet, the readers of the Tennesseean will understand and appreciate its truth, nor abate their confidence and patronage because of it. The expenses of the Courier-Journal have the last two years multiplied in the same way, though, as it always has been a three-center, it will not be compelled to make any increase in its subscription rates.

FOURTH OF JULY TETANUS.

(From the office of the U. S. Public Health Service.)

Back in 1905 there were 104 deaths in the United States from Fourth of July tetanus, this figure being the result of the average annual mortality. In 1914, as a result of the institution of better prophylactic treatment by physicians and the widespread agitation for safe and sane "Fourth," the number was reduced to 4.

A year ago the U. S. Public Health Service prepared and published that every youngster in the United States would be safe from this disease, basing its estimate on what had already been accomplished. When the returns came in it was found that a boy down in Maine had been injured, developed tetanus and died. That single fatality was only one among many occurring in the United States during 1915, but it resulted from Fourth of July tetanus or lock jaw, a preventable disease and was therefore an unnecessary death. The loss of this boy makes it again necessary to disseminate information regarding this wholly avoidable infection.

The blank cartridge wound is the great cause of Fourth of July tetanus but injuries from crackers and fireworks are at times responsible. When driven into the tissues the wadding carries with it innumerable bacilli. If these be tetanus bacilli the poisonous products or toxins resulting from multiplication produce the disease. Tetanus bacilli thrive only in the absence of oxygen. It is for this reason that the physician enlarges the wound of entrance and after removing all foreign material dresses the injury in such manner that development of the organisms is inhibited. In order to accomplish this it is usually necessary to administer anaesthetic. Anti-tetanic serum is of great value as a prophylactic and it should invariably be given in injuries of this character.

Parents should realize that Fourth of July tetanus is easy to prevent but extremely difficult to cure, the disease being attended with a mortality of more than 95 per cent. No blank cartridge wound is too trivial to receive careful medical attention. However slight the injury may appear, consult a competent physician who will at once institute the necessary prophylactic measures. Reliance upon home treatment may prove disastrous and result in the needless sacrifice of life.

His Backache Gone.

Just how dangerous a backache sore muscles, aching joints or rheumatic pains may be is sometimes realized only when life insurance is refused on account of kidney trouble. Joseph G. KILL ALL STRAY CATS.

(Stockman and Farmer.)

Most of us have at times found three or four stray kittens, unloaded from some strange-minded traveler's rig, even an automobile—upon our defenseless front porch. They are always hungry and disreputable looking and are found either to feed or to kill them to keep them from feeding themselves on our young chicks and birds. A correspondent who has suffered extremely from the injustice writes to ask for some remedy. Maybe a notice announcing that all stray cats will be killed at once would help some. The trouble is that persons accustomed to care for animals always become attached to them and have a kindly feeling for all dumb creatures so that it is hard to kill them. The trouble is that pioneers in even the most needed reforms are always criticised, even by the people who afterwards follow them. But some things must be done in self-defense and killing stray cats is one of them.

CHARMING YOUNG LADY TESTIFIES

Stenographer in Commercial Department of N. & W. Ry., makes interesting Statement.

Miss Imogen Ayers, 634 Marshall Avenue, Roanoke, Va., employed as chief stenographer in the commercial department of the Norfolk & Western Railway Co., makes a public statement that will prove of genuine interest to all her friends and the public as well. She said:

"Not very long ago I was suffering from rheumatism, loss of appetite, insomnia and general breakdown. I felt tired out and weary all the time. Had terrible pains in all my joints, could not eat, was extremely restless at night, and scarcely knew what a full night's sleep was. I saw the various advertisements regarding Tanlac and decided I'd see if it would do me as much good as it seemed to be doing others. I got a bottle of it and it helped me more than I could say. I no longer have the rheumatic pains, have a much better appetite and can go to sleep anywhere. I found Tanlac to be all that was claimed for it—and just exactly what was needed in my particular case."

If you are a sufferer from rheumatism, indigestion or any of the like ailments go today to Dr. John E. Jackson's drug store and get a bottle of Tanlac and see if it don't prove to be just what you have needed.

Seeing Chamberlain's Tablets advertised I decided to try them. I improved rapidly." Obtainable everywhere.

UNITED SUPPORT OF THE PRESIDENT.

(Joseph T. Waters, in the New York Daily World.)

In these critical moments every delicatessen store diplomat, every desk-room warrior, every Tom, Dick and Harry, seems to know how to solve the Mexican situation better than our President and his cabinet. Professional malcontents and creators of disorder are busy "knocking" the administration and placing myriads of obstacles in the way of the peace, prosperity and general well-being of our republic. To this pestiferous element, who detest the sublime patriotism of our President, nothing is right.

The time is now ripe for real Americans to unite. There should be no Republicans, no Progressives, no Democrats—only one great, big party of genuine patriots, ready to stand by the President of the United States and helping our fighting brothers in Mexico by unmasking the foulcast of foes at home.

It is only after some people are planted safely beneath six feet of earth that they cease to say "I told you so."

A PLANT IN PLACE.

(Stockman and Farmer.)

Those who live on rich land and emit occasional sarcasms about the sweet clover should take a trip to Pendleton county, Kentucky. Twenty years ago that county was in a bad way. It is hilly and the hills were barren. The land was badly eroded and gulled. Land was cheap because it produced little. Then somebody started sweet clover, a plant with a mission on barren land if not elsewhere. Told yth hills are productive and the gullies are gone, or at least are out of sight. Sweet clover and alfalfa, which followed it, are the foundation of a big dairy industry and considerable business in seeds and honey. Trying to produce the wrong things—grain and tobacco—almost ruined Pendleton county. A plant that is called a weed and may be a weed in some parts of the country has redeemed it. There are communities here and there in this broad land which would profit by sending a delegation to Pendleton to absorb some facts and shuck off some prejudices.
